HOW TO BE SAFE IN THE CYBER WORLD

Make your safety a priority

1 KEEP YOUR PASSWORDS TO YOURSELF

Never share your password – ever. Make sure your password is at least eight characters long, a mix of letters and numbers and not the name of your favourite band, pet or football team.

2 PHOTOS

Think twice before sending or posting a photo. A private joke can become a public embarrassment in one click. Once it's out there you can't take it back and it can travel a long way very quickly.

3 SOCIAL MEDIA

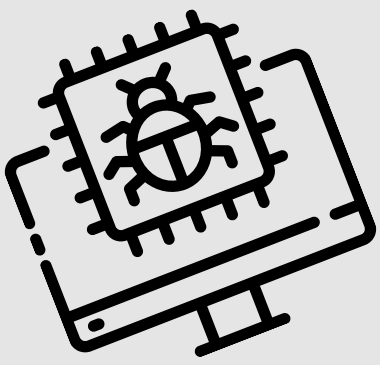
Ensure to check your privacy settings in social media

4 CHATTING TO STRANGERS

Just like real life - don't talk to strangers. People online can pretend to be someone else so take care. If you have unwanted contact or if someone asks to meet with you - log off immediately and tell an adult that you trust.

5 MODERATE COMMENTS

If you've got a blog, make sure you moderate comments. You might consider publishing a blog comment policy, so people know what's okay to discuss and why you have deleted their comments.

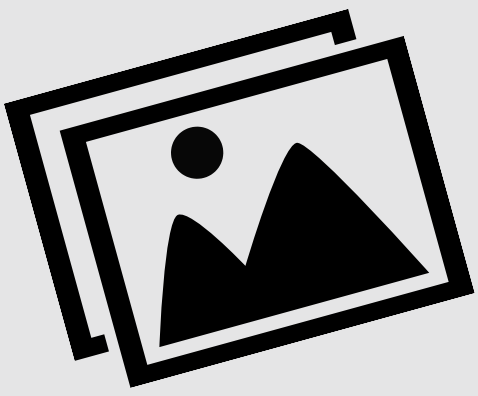


6 ARGUMENTS

If an online argument is turning into a flame war, let it go. Step away, take a few deep breaths and remember what you are posting is probably not something you'll be proud of tomorrow.

7 BLOCK OR REPORT

If the bullying is happening via social media, you can use your account settings to block the accounts being used to bully you. If this doesn't stop the bullying, you can report the bullying to your Internet Service Provider or mobile phone provider to ask for more advice.



8 MALICIOUS SOURCES

Always beware of cyber traps and other sources or sites which can be malicious. (Example: free video game donwload, free money claims, etc

9 BLOCK OR REPORT

If the bullying is happening via social media, you can use your account settings to block the accounts being used to bully you. If this doesn't stop the bullying, you can report the bullying to your Internet Service Provider or mobile phone provider to ask for more advice.

10 OTHERS

Never try to humiliate anyone online or do any of the things listed above to someone else, because even the smallest of things can turn into the biggest problems.
